LAST NIGHT'S CONVENTION.

The Choice for Postmaster Decided.

MR. BRIDGERS IS THE FAVORITE.

The "Favored and Elect" Met and Transacted Business in Bogart's Opera House.

In the minds of certain would-be Republican leaders, Tyre Glenn, A. A. Hinton and other prominent Republicans are today "dead ducks" politically. This belief is caused by the big pow-wow held in Bogart's Opera House last night to determine who should be our next city postmaster.

Loud and weird strains of music from the colored band heralded the opening of the meeting, and at the appointed hour a few of the "favored and elect" ones had gathered to participate in the proceedings of the evening.

Justice F. M. Keith called the assembly to order and stated the purpose of the convention, making one of his characteristic speeches. He re-affirmed his allegiance to the principles of the G. O. P., and announced his determination to fight all cliques and ring rule, to the bitter end. He believed that just as surely as the glittering rays of the noon-day sun fall upon this municipality of political rot so certain will the nominee of this convention—a convention of the people, by the people and for the people—be the next postmaster.

He further stated that this convention was a straight Republican convention, called through the regular channel, and that it had been known for two weeks that a convention was to be held, yet many who call themselves prominent and influential republicans are not present. He said many other things, but it is not necessary to burden our readers with more.

Benjamin F. Bridgers, who is chairman of some kind of a republican committee, and an aspirant for the postmastership, was the next speaker. He called out in stentorian tones to know where were Tyre Glenn, A. A. Hinton, J. D. White and the numerous other candidates for postmaster. They were afraid to come out before the people and represent themselves, he said. We fear this mighty and eloquent effort on the part of Mr. Bridgers will be finally lost to history.

After the speech-making was over the balloting for postmaster began. On the first ballot Mr. Bridgers received all the ballots cast, save six, and was declared the choice of the convention—this convention of the people, by the people and for the people.

Prominent bona fide Republicans say this affair was gotten up entirely by Mr. Keith and his crowd for the sole purpose of consummating the work accomplished last night.

The work of the convention is not taken seriously, inasmuch as it was not a regularly authorized one, and the appointment of Greensboro's postmaster will be made without reference to it.

BOB NEWLIN FREE AGAIN.

Only a Short Part of His Five Year Sentence Was Served.

Attorney D. Schenck, Jr., after a long and tedious fight, has succeeded in having Bob Newlin, who was convicted and sentenced to five years in the penitentiary at the last term of court for complicity in the bomb-throwing here, liberated from jail.

Mr. Schenck, proceeding on the theory that the bomb was not thrown by the occupants of the carriage, succeeded in finding one of them, Ed. Brown, a colored cook on a dining car, who made affidavit that the carriage was merely passing when the bomb exploded. As there was no conceivable reason for believing the occupants of the carriage guilty of the crime after their identity was established the charge against Newlin was shown to be groundless. As he has already been convicted and sentenced however an appeal will be made to the Governor to pardon him. The judge and solicitor will join in the appeal to executive clemency since Newlin's innocence has been established. Meantime he has been liberated on a straw bond of $200 for his appearance at the December term of court.

Taken to The Asylum.

Jordan Staples, the demented old colored man who has been around our streets for some time, was taken to the hospital for the colored insane at Goldsboro this morning. He was accompanied by W. E. Holley. Jordan has been "off the handle" for some time, his particular hobby being that he was entitled to a pension from the government for services rendered the union during the late war.

APPROVED AMERICAN FASHION.

Man Who Assaulted President Diaz, Yesterday, Lynched Last Night.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

CITY OF MEXICO, Sept. 17.—Arronzo who yesterday assaulted President Diaz was lynched last night by a mob of the common people. About twenty of the lynchers were arrested. The mob proceeded along the most approved line of American lynching. It had apparently no organization yet it was directed in some mysterious way. They broke the jail by forcing the doors with huge pieces of timber handled by a hundred men; they then overpowered the guards and surrounded them, while a detail ran down the corridors and dragged out the trembling Arronzo. Crowds thronged the streets cheering for Diaz and the Republic in the meantime.

BREAKING INTO A POWDER HOUSE

Strikers Securing Explosives and the Troops Hurried to the Scene.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

HAZELTON, Sept. 17.—Word was received here this morning by telephone from one of the night watchmen at the Lehigh and Wilkesbarre mine at Cranberry that a crowd of strikers was breaking into a powder house owned by Edward Turnback. Turnback was one of the deputies who took part in the shooting on last Friday. The messages called earnestly for troops and a force was immediately directed to hasten to the scene of the disturbance.

Grass Will Grow in Jackson.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

JACKSON, Miss., Sept. 17.—No more people are leaving the city, for two reasons—there are very few left here, and none of these can get out on account of the rigid quarantine thrown around the town. Business is dead. The town having gotten rid of those excitable persons (to the number of several thousand) the chances of those remaining are correspondingly increased should trouble occur, and the people are, therefore, feeling easier.

Strikers Appeal to The Czar.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Sept. 17.—At a meeting here of District Assembly No. 47, K. of L., a committee was appointed to draw up resolutions on the shooting of miners at Hazleton, Pa. A plan to send a petition to the Czar of Russia asking him to afford protection to Russian citizens in the mining regions in the interests of humanity was taken up and discussed.

The czar is to be appealed to to protect those of his former subjects who are in peril from armed deputies.

Broken Down Steamer in Tow.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

QUEENSTOWN, N. S., Sept. 17.—The overdue anchor line steamship Circassia, which left New York on the 28th of August for Glasgow, was sighted this afternoon off Kinsale head in tow of the British steamer Memnon from Montreal.

Gets a Fortune.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Sept. 17.—Daniel Goodman, an employee of the Phoenix iron works of Phoenixville, has just received word that by the death of his sister he becomes sole heir to an estate of $500,000 in Staffordshire, Eng.

Andree Found Once More.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

LONDON, Sept. 17.—Dispatches received here today say that another balloon supposed to be that of Explorer Andree has been discovered at Yenissisk, in East Siberia.

Drowned by Wholesale.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 16.—Two steamers, the Tsarevitch and Malpika collided today in the river Volga, near Astrakhan. The former sank, and while she was going down her passengers, panic stricken, jumped in to the river. Many of them succeeded in reaching the shore, but forty persons were drowned.

HAVE THE KEYS OF THE TOWN

Jr. O. U. A. M's Swamp High Point,

STARS AND STRIPES FLOATING.

Mammoth Parade and Big Dinner—Eloquent Speech of Dr. Mc-Iver—Other Incidents.

Special to THE TELEGRAM.

HIGH POINT, Sept. 17.—This city is in holiday attire today, the places of business being decked with flying bunting stars and stripes. The town is overflowing with visitors, most of whom are members of the Junior Order, a delegation of about 100 having come over from Winston-Salem.

The parade formed at the Anchor warehouse at 9 o'clock and proceeded by way of Washington, Kirkman and Fayetteville streets to the graded school building in the following order:

Marshals, band, speakers, the red school house, in miniature chariot, containing the Goddess of Liberty and her charming maids; Centerville band and the members of the Junior Order on foot. There were about 150 Juniors in the parade. The following visiting councils were represented:

Liberty and Fairview, Winston; Salem and Centerville, Salem; Winona, Salisbury, Lexington, Walkertown, Randleman and Walnut Cove.

THE TELEGRAM has already published the program of speakers. All that was said was appreciated and well put, and reflected the just pride felt by the people of High Point in their new educational enterprise.

Dr. Chas. D. McIver's speech in presenting the Holy Bible to the graded school, in behalf of the Junior Order, was in a contracted form, as follows: I congratulate the people of High Point on this day. In some essential respects your town is built upon a firmer foundation than any other town in North Carolina. Every day its chief business is to take nature's raw material as found in the forest and multiply its value manifold by the application of the intelligence and skill of your manufacturers and laborers.

If North Carolina ever becomes a wealthy state it must do so by following the example set by this enterprising town. Yet wealth is not the essential element of civilization.

Education is infinitely more valuable. Education without wealth will surely produce wealth, whereas wealth without education is no guarantee of education.

I congratulate you, because you have determined to educate your people—all of them—and increase the value of your citizenship. Your public schools will add more to the productiveness and value of your manhood and womanhood than your factories add to the value of the raw, dead material, upon which their energies are expended.

I congratulate you that in your midst there is an order, one of whose chief articles of faith is the maintenance of the public school system throughout the United States.

It is that order which, in a large measure, gives life and soul to this meeting; it is that order whose members marched through the sun and heat to proclaim their undying allegiance to the public schools of this country. The order has presented to your school the flag of the United States. May it always remind the people of this town, as well as the children over whom it shall daily spread its beautiful folds, that they owe a duty to their country, the first step in the discharge of which duty is to become intelligent, productive, law-abiding citizens.

In behalf of the Jr. O. U. A. M., I am commissioned to present to the public school of this community the Book of Books—the word of God. The order hopes by this and similar presentations to encourage the reading of this blessed book in the schools where more than nine-tenths of our children get an education, and in that way to make it impossible for those children to grow up to manhood and womanhood without becoming Christians.

The order is actuated by no hope or desire that public educational institutions shall become theological schools or the promoters of the peculiar interpretations of any religious sect. If the scriptures be the word of God, familiarity with the scriptures is the greatest need of the human creature. If they be not the word of God, as claimed by some, but are merely the words of men, they present the highest philosophy and the purest ethics that the world has ever known.

The teachings of Moses and the workings of Christ are the foundations of morals, public and private, and the foundations of health, public and private. From the standpoint of history, literature and ethics, the exclusion of the Bible from the public schools would be playing Hamlet with Hamlet left out. Shall we teach children the history and laws of Lycurgus and be silent as to the history and laws of Moses? Shall we make men and women familiar with the teachings and language of Shakespeare and leave them ignorant of the teachings and philosophy of the Man of Galilee?

State Superintendent of Public Instruction Chas. H. Mebane made a general educational address and at 3 o'clock Dr. Edwin A. Alderman, president of the University, made an address on education.

I shall not attempt to describe the dinner at the warehouse at one o'clock. It was "perfectly lovely." Mrs. Bertha Snow as the Goddess of Liberty and her four attendants made the prettiest feature of the parade.

To Get A Restraining Order.

Attorney A. L. Brooks went to Graham this morning to get from the judge an order restraining alleged infringements on a patent tobacco warehouse basket invented and sold by W. H. Snow, of High Point. A man in Granville county, has invented and is selling a basket similar to the one patented by Mr. Snow. Gooch's invention is thought to be an infringement on Mr. Snow's basket, and the matter will come up in the courts for settlement.

FEVER BREAKS UP MAILS.

Trains Taken Off at Places and All Mail Fumigated.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 17.—The superintendent of the railway mail service said today that he was bothered very much by the yellow fever. The mail from the infected cities was very hard to deliver as in some instances the trains have been taken off. All mail from the infected districts is fumigated and only four cities are now shut off; these are Ocean Springs, Scranton, Biloxi and New Orleans.

Deserted His Wife.

Some months ago, Mr. J. E. Gwathney, claiming to be from near Statesville, took up quarters in the Pleasant Valley, S. C. neighborhood, and courted and married Miss Martha Norman, of the same community. Last Sunday week, after having been married two months, Gwathney disappeared, and has not been seen since.

Mr. Norman, father of Mrs. Gwathney, was in the city yesterday hunting the "missing link." Gwathney is a tall fellow, has a sandy mustache, and is cross-eyed.—Charlotte Observer.

SOUTHERN CARRIER CHARGES.

The attempt to locate a new enterprise here, the probable outcome of which was mentioned in the local columns of our last two issues, has brought out one fact very clearly: the main obstacle to such enterprises is the high transportation charges which must be borne in the shipment of machinery, raw material and the finished product. It was shown that in this instance that freight and express charges, especially the latter, were so high as to render it next to impossible to make the business profitable. Of course this is an extreme case since shipments had to be made from New York here and return; but what operates strongly in this instance against the enterprise must tell in some degree against all enterprises where the material is not acquired and distributed locally.

What is surprising in all such cases is that the carriers should not make such rates as will enable new plants to establish themselves and in this way swell the volume of future business for the companies on whose routes they are established. There are, of course, certain obstacles to be overcome in all such arrangements, but they are not necessarily insurmountable.

It is a well known fact that transportation charges are much higher from northern points southward, or vice versa, than from the same points westward. This discrimination against the south is justified on the ground that the volume of business between the north and the west is very much larger than that between the north and south. This is undoubtedly true, but it is also true that these higher rates tend strongly and constantly to keep the volume of business done by southern lines from increasing. The southern manufacturer can not compete with the western or northern manufacturer if the latter have the advantage of lower costs for shipment. Thus the carrier claims that charges can not be reduced until there is more to be carried and the amount to be carried can not be increased rapidly until the charges are lowered. There will doubtless be a steady tendency to relax his tense knot, as manufacturers will be bunched anyway, but it will none the less retard our development.

The carriers do not seem to realize that they are cutting their own throats in the long run and, if better rates are to be obtained, it can come about only by concerted action on the part of those upon whom present high rates fall as a hardship.

WEYLERISM OUT OF CUBA.

Yesterday's dispatches contained an account of the murder of a negro postmaster in Georgia. The indications were that his death had been deliberately decided upon by the citizens of the place, to whom he was distasteful in his official capacity. We have always regarded the appointment of negro postmasters in the South as a piece of partisan spite, too small and contemptible to be indulged in by a self-respecting administration; that however, does not justify any such high-handed action as was taken in this instance. It was murder, deliberately planned and maliciously carried out; no effort should be spared to apprehend and convict every man implicated in the brutal deed. It was worse, infinitely worse, than the lynchings which have so deeply disgraced us as a people this summer. The latter have some shadow of justification, sophistical, indeed, but still a shadow, in that the victim is a criminal; in this latter instance a law-abiding citizen was shot down like a dog in cold blood, simply because his appointment did not meet with the approval of the community. Thus lawlessness grows. The law once successfully defied, there is no logical stopping place short of anarchy.

The probabilities are all on the side of the cowardly perpetrators going scot free. There will be the usual farcical investigation with the usual farcical result. It is small wonder that thinking men should view present tendencies with apprehension. There is no civilized nation on the globe that can show half the flagrant breaches of law, open and contemptuous defiance of authority, that has marked the past four or five months in this country.

We go into righteous hysterics over the atrocities of Weyler in Cuba, and yet, undoubtedly, a comparative statement would show that within the above period more people have been executed without sanction of law in the United States than in Cuba. Is it a sad fact that we, as a people, have become so accustomed to just such revolting cases as this reported from Georgia, that we dismiss them lightly as a mere matter of course. In the minds of many it is viewed rather jocularly than seriously. We still have a good many things to learn in the way of civilization.

THE papers said when Gen. Nelson A. Miles (pity he don't write his middle name in full) attended the review of the German troops, the "Emperor spoke a few kind words to him;" we hope that at the late review of the French troops President Faure rose to the occasion and patted him on the head.

Remarkable Talks of the Times.

We learn arrangements are being made to have P. C. Enniss deliver his lecture on "Saxon Japhet Searching for a Father," here at an early date. This subject is said to interest Christian, Jew, Gentile and all alike. It is probable that Mr. Enniss will remain in Greensboro a week delivering his Bible talks. Some of the other subjects presented will be: "The Future of Israel and Judah;" "Why and When this Gospel Age will End;" "Ephraim and Manasseh, or Great Britain and the United States in Prophecy;" "The Bible a Sealed Book—Why;" "The Millennium Kingdom, or the Personal Reign of Christ on Earth;" "Moses and the Prophets;" "Christ and the Apostles;" and the "Gospel a System of Truth."

Bernard Wore A Smile.

A special from Washington to the News and Observer yesterday says: Congressman Harry Skinner and Hon. C. M. Bernard, Skinner's candidate for United States district attorney, were at the White House today and had a pleasant interview with President McKinley. When they came out of the President's room they wore a satisfied smile, which clearly indicated that the talk had been highly successful. The appointment of district attorney for the eastern district will not however, be made immediately. Congressman Skinner left for home tonight.

The meeting adjourned to October 30th.—Cor. of Charlotte Observer.

Something to Depend On.

Mr. James Jones, of the drug firm of Jones & Son, Cowden, Ill., in speaking of Dr. King's New Discovery, says that last winter his wife was attacked with la grippe, and her case grew so serious that physicians at Cowden and Pana could do nothing for her. It seemed to develop into hasty consumption. Having Dr. King's New Discovery in store, and selling lots of it, he took a bottle home, and to the surprise of all she began to get better from first dose, and half dozen dollar bottles cured her sound and well. Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds is guaranteed to do this good work. Try it. Free trial bottles at C. E. Holton's drug store.

Rev. C. A. G. Thomas, of Fayetteville, spent last night in the city and went to High Point this morning, where he presents a flag to the graded schools in behalf of the Jr. O. U. A. M.

Go and Get Cool.

Don't you think a lawn party will be just the thing to make you forget for a time the intense heat of these September days? If so, you will find the ladies of West Market Street church ready to do all in their power this evening on the lawn of Rev. L. W. Crawford, on West Market street, to enable you to spend a few hours in comfort by furnishing you ice cream, sherbet, and other refreshments. Should any prefer more substantial fare, they can call for chicken-salad.

The parlor concert, a delightful entertainment furnished by some of our best musicians and elocutionists, will begin at 8 o'clock. Admission, 10 cents; children 5 cents to concert.

An Important Consultation.

F. H. Busbee, of Raleigh representing the Southern Railway and a representative of the Western Union Telegraph Company held a consultation here last night in reference to the action of the Railroad Commission in reducing charges for messages from 25 to 15 cents. The result of the conference could not be learned.

In High Point Today.

Fifteen or twenty members of Greensboro Council No. 13, Jr. O. U. A. M., went to High Point this morning to participate in the educational rally there today. The Greensboro Juniors have more than a passing interest in this occasion, for two of the principal speakers are members of the Greensboro council.

The Murderer Captured.

The negro Bill Day, who killed his sweetheart in Winston Saturday night was captured near Stoneville yesterday morning. He was brought to Winston on the N. & W. train last night.

He claims that he was only playing with the woman and had no intention of killing her.

The Excursionists Return.

West's excursion reached Greensboro on its return from Asheville last night at 11:55. Everybody on board had enjoyed the trip immensely and came back in fine spirits and the best of health. The crowd that went on the excursion was above the average in point of looks and intelligence.

Mr. Woodruff Out Again.

We are glad to see that genial gentleman, Mr. L. F. Woodruff, out again after a troublesome attack of fever. We trust he will recover his strength speedily.

Preaching Tonight.

Rev. T. M. Johnson's subject to-night will be "What must I do to be saved?"

NARROW ESCAPE.

A Colored Woman Comes Near Being Killed.

If that old character sometimes referred to as the "Fool Killer" should come around here he could find plenty of work to occupy his attention. Some people who seemingly value their lives very lightly, having a habit of boarding trains when in motion, instead of getting on at the proper time.

This morning a colored woman, who intended going off on the Winston train, was standing at the depot talking to some friends, among whom was a gallant colored gent, who was to help her on the train.

The woman waited until the train had started and then attempted to board the train by catching hold of the iron railing around the rear platform of one of the cars.

She missed her footing and was being dragged rapidly along toward the South Elm street crossing, and it seemed as if she would be dashed against a pile of dirt which had been thrown up by the section hands. Had such an accident occurred she would have undoubtedly been killed, but luckily Policeman Jordan was standing by the track and caught the woman just in time to save her from being dashed to death.

It isn't often that a person is more badly scared than was this woman, and it is safe to say that the next time she wishes to board a train she will do so before the train starts.

Robbers Galore.

An organized band of robbers seemed to have struck the Asheville excursion train at Salisbury last night.

J. W. Merritt, who took advantage of the excursion to make a business trip to Hickory, Marion and Lenoir, was the first one to experience a loss. A negro walked out of the car with a fine silk umbrella belonging to him, and now Mr. Merritt is traveling in the sun and heat minus his umbrella.

One of the conductors had a valise filled with clothing stolen. It was a valise was a brand new suit of clothes.

Sheriff Redding, of Randolph, had a grip and a valise stolen, but they were recovered.

The thieves evidently thought the excursionists well worth "working."

The Showers Descend.

While we Greensboro people were scorching and almost baking from the dry heat this morning, the people of Winston enjoyed a small shower of rain. We trust that this was only the forerunner of a refreshing shower that shall descend upon both towns within a few hours.

A New Warehouse for High Point.

Quarantines Against Atlanta.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Sept. 16.—The board of health of this city today declared a rigid quarantine against Atlanta. The order was issued at noon and passengers and freight from Atlanta will henceforth be subjected to the same strict rules governing those from New Orleans and other fever-stricken places.

STAMPS TO REMAIN RED.

Resolution of the Postal Congress Was Overlooked.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—The plans for changing the color of the 2-cent stamp from red to green will fail after all.

This failure is brought about by a resolution adopted by the international postal congress at its recent session held here.

The resolution provided that after January 1, 1898, the letter postage of nations embraced within the congress should be printed in red.

The treasury department was anxious that the change should be made, and regrets that it cannot now do so.

Johnson, the eye specialist, has a new ad in today's paper. If your eyes are giving you trouble it might be well to consult him.
